VOLUME CIX.--NO. 106. ALEXANDRIA, VA., SATURDAY EVENING, MAY 16, 1908. PRICE 2 CENTS

Words of Praise

For the several ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's medicines are composed, as given by leaders in all the several schools of medicine, should have far more weight than any amount of non-professional testimonials. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has THE BADGE OF HONESTY on every bottle-wrapper, in a full list of all its ingredients printed in plain English.

If you are an invalid woman and suffer from frequent headache, backache, gnawing distress in stomach, periodical pains, disagreeable, catarrhal, pelvic drain, dragging-down distress in lower abdomen or pelvis, perhaps dark spots or specks dancing before the eyes, faint spells and kindred symptoms caused by female weakness, or other derangement of the feminine organs, you can not do better than take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

The hospital, surgeon's knife and operating table may be avoided by the timely use of "Favorite Prescription" in such cases. Thereby the obnoxious examinations and local treatments of the family physician can be avoided and a thorough course of successful treatment carried out in the privacy of the home. "Favorite Prescription" is composed of the very best native medicinal roots known to medical science for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments, contains no alcohol and no harmful or habit-forming drugs.

Do not expect too much from "Favorite Prescription;" it will not perform miracles; it will not disolve or cure tumors. No medicine will. It will do as much to establish vigorous health in most weaknesses and ailments peculiarly incident to women as any medicine can. It must be given a fair chance by perseverance in its use for a reasonable length of time.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this remedy of known composition.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is guarded as sacredly secret and womanly confidences are protected by professional privacy. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets the best laxative and regulator of the bowels. They invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. One a laxative; two or three a cathartic. Easy to take as candy.

FIGHT AT WOMAN'S GRAVE.

Imbued with the belief that they are possessed of power by which they can raise the dead, fifty men and women of the Church of the First Born, or Unknown Tongues, of Crabbites, gathered at the Goose Creek graveyard, near Martinsville, Ind., a few days ago, where they succeeded for a time in preventing the burial of Mrs. George Hatley, who at one time had been baptized into the faith.

The graveyard is situated on a high hill, and when the relatives of Mrs. Hatley, with the body, reached the place, the fanatics were waiting for them. In order to reach the grave it was necessary for three men to assist Willis Rush, the father of the dead woman, in holding the coffin in the wagon as it ascended the steep incline.

These men were attacked by the Crabbites. The latter made a rush for the wagon, drove the relatives away and for a time resisted all efforts to bury the body. The Crabbites insisted that they did not wish the body buried, as they believed they could raise the woman from the dead by faith and prayer and laying on of hands, and they desired to try the experiment. Mr. Rush, however, is a non-believer, hence the encounter at the grave.

MONKEYS FIGHT AT SEA.

The antipathy of brunettes towards blondes and vice versa caused a riot on the steamship Venetia between 50 monkeys, 30 of which came in charge of a passenger and the other 20 as the property of one of the sailors of the vessel. The Venetia arrived at New York yesterday from Santa Marta, Colombia.

Jose Garcia, a Cuban, who had been prospecting in South America, had the chance of buying 30 blonde monkeys, which he believed he would be able to dispose of in New York as a rarity at a good profit. Sigbund Longfeldt, a sailor, had 20 monkeys of the brunette tyye which he hid in the forcastle quarters until the Venetia was well out to sea. Monday the entire lot of monkeys escaped from confinement and adjourned to the Venetia's rigging, where they held an open air battle. The fight lasted all of Monday and Tuesday.

A heavy rain and thunderstorm on Wednesday brought most of the monkeys that were not killed to the deck. Some fell overboard into the sea, but what was left were gathered up by the respective owners. Mr. Garcia took the remnant of the blondes, while Longfeldt took the remainder of the brunette collection.

SHERWOOD DENOUNCES KEIFER

One of the most scathing denunciations of a fellow-member ever heard in the House of Representatives was uttered yesterday by General Sherwood, of Ohio, against his colleague, General Keifer, former speaker of the House.

General Sherwood based his remarks on an alleged accusation made by General Keifer that he had introduced a bill for pensions for veterans "for buncombe and political purposes." Interest in the incident was enhanced by the fact that, in addition to being from the same State, Generals Keifer and Sherwood are both veterans of the civil war. General Sherwood said he had been attacked and maligned and misquoted in six pages of the Congressional Record "and that, too, without any provocation whatever."

He said that his advocacy of the measure of relief of the veterans had excited the envy of General Keifer, "who, I am credibly informed, wishes to be recognized as the only soldier of any account on this floor." He said that "Mr. Keifer's idea of legislation was like Mr. Keifer himself—entirely selfish."

BURIED UNDER WALL.

The Omaha Packing Company's big packing plant at South Omaha was totally destroyed by fire early last night, the loss being approximated at $1,250,000. The Cudahy Packing Company suffered a loss of probably $200,000 at the same time. The fire originated in the smokehouse of the plant, and was well under way when first noticed. For two hours the fire raged in the big building and when at 8 o'clock it was pronounced under control, there was nothing else to be burned.

Assistance in fighting the fire was asked of the Omaha fire department, and half a dozen companies were sent down. They helped to prevent the spread of the flames.

The plant was owned by the National Packing Company, which also owns the Hammond plant at South Omaha.

Six firemen were buried under a falling wall late last night.

All were dug out by their comrades. They were alive, but badly injured. Each has a fighting chance of recovery.

DeWitt's Little Early Risers are small, safe sure and gentle little pills. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co.

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER.

SATURDAY EVENING, MAY 16, 1908

THE propagators of socialism are using every means in their power to amalgamate with the church, and in some instances they are succeeding. There is now a conference of so-called Christian ministers who are preaching socialism. It is said that in a number of towns in the west congregations will receive none except preachers who believe in socialism. Recently when representatives of religious bodies have met members of synods, conserences, councils, and general assembles have found socialistic circulars in their mail. In most cases no attention has been given to such missives, but in instances ministers have been impressed by the arguments set forth by the champions of this system of political economy. One of the most difficult questions that the Methodist Conference now in session in Baltimore will have to deal with will probably be that of the attitude of the church toward socialism. For several years the bishops have succeeded in warding off this discussion, but from present indications it will have to be considered fully at this conference. A delegation representing the socialists of this country, among whom is a minister, made an engagement to call on Bishop Goodsell this morning and present him a long letter asking numerous questions. The letter which it is proposed to lay before the conference contains many curious observations. The denunciation of capitalism is the most prominent feature of the paper. The following are some of the extracts:

Under private capitalism the doctor is in distress when his neighbors are well; he needs patients who will pay—not because he is a bad man, but because he needs the money.

The storekeeper is pleased when his neighbor fails—there will be more business for him.

The carpenter is happy when fire destroys a building or a town—he will get more work and the existence of a wage slave, usually living in a rented house.

The undertaker is not only solemn at the funeral, but for business reasons is also sad when his neighbors do not die—their distress is his financial happiness. Think of a system of society wnerein the undertaker is in distress if his friends do not die soon! And think of preachers calling this Christian civilization! Think of preaching the Golden Rule while unable to observe it yourselves, and while doing all in your power to sustain and promote systems which make it impossible for others to obey it. You have referred us to the Golden Rule, and we are striving to observe it, but find we cannot do it under the capitalist systems which you and your preachers and church members stand for. Kindly show us.

The absurdity of the above should be apparent. Can socialism prevent people from becoming ill and dying? and will there not be fires and buying and selling as long as the world endures?

THE Senate yesterday, as stated in the Gazette of that day, passed a bill to provide for building a public avenue on the south side of the Potomac river from Washington to Mount Vernon. An appropriation of $120,000 is made, this being in repayment of money loaned by Virginia a century ago. The Senate has at several other sessions passed this bill and it now goes to the House. When Speaker Cannon spoke in this city on the Twenty-second of last February Congressman Carlin jollied him for not allowing this bill to come up in the House and the speaker's reply was, "When at first you don't succeed try, try again." Now Mr. Carlin has the opportunity to "try" which he will certainly seize if the speaker looks his way.

TWO Canadian paper manufacturers have submitted evidence that the labor cost per ton of paper is as high in the Dominion as in this country. The same is true of many other, if not most other, lines of manufacture. The U. S. Bureau of Labor has published statistics showing that labor cost in pig iron and pine lumber are lower in this country then abroad, and it is probably true generally that, although wages are higher here than in Europe, the labor cost per unit is lower here than it is in most other countries. The American manufacturers usually hire fewer hands for a given output, and get a bigger production from each laborer.

THE currency bill was sent to conference yesterday afternoon in the House under circumstances which hold out little promise of legislation. As the bill now stands it is the original Aldrich bill once more, with no vestige left of the House plan to organize clearing houses and make commercial paper the chief basis of the proposed emergency issues. It is once more the Senate scheme to create additional markets for bonds and premit the financial interests of Wall street to reap whatever of benefit is to be derived from legislation.

THE U. S. Court of New York has decided that the president has the right to dismiss the Brownsville rioters. That may be technically true, but, as says the Philadelphia North American, no court can justify the laceration of the feelings of Joseph Benson Foraker.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, D. C., May 16.

E. H. Harriman, the railroad king, is in Washington today on a mission that has only been explained by the fact that he is "a practical man." He has been busily engaged in glad-handing the assembled delegates to the governors' congress and today when asked what he thought of industrial conditions throughout the country said: "The country is all right. Everything is normal and there is no reason why we should not have prosperity in plenty. Farmers are contented and have no mortgages to pay. The land is producing all they need. Everything depends upon that. We are all right."

When Governor Johnson, of Minnesota, today sprang up the steps to the speaker's chair to shake hands with the speaker, the House rose en masse to applaud these political leaders. As Gov. Johnson descended from the speaker's rostrum, he was surrounded by a hundred or so Congressmen, desiring to shake hands with him. When Gov. Johnson reached the Senate chamber he immediately sought out the two Alabama Senators, Bankhead and Johnson, both of whom have declared themselves in favor of his candidacy for the presidency. Many Senators met him.

President Roosevelt will push a button at 4 o'clock today which will transmit the signal for the opening of the Charity Fair at St. Louis.

Capt. R. E. Peary, the Arctic explorer, called on the president today to talk over the prospects of his forthcoming dash for the North Pole. He will be in readiness for the trip by July 1st if the necessary fund of $50,000 will be raised by that time.

John L. Sullivan, who never passes within the fifty mile radius of Washington without drooping into the White House came over from Baltimore today to shake hands with the president.

Representative Watson, republican whip, said today after a talk with the president that Congress now sees the end of its work clearly ahead. He can not foresee any reason why adjournment should not be taken by the end of next week.

Sixtieth Congress.

Washington, May 16.

SENATE.

Senator Hale today served notice that the postal savings banks bill cannot be passed at this session. He said a bill of such importance cannot be considered if the Senate is to adjourn during the closing days of next week.

Mr. Carter moved that the bill be made a special order for the second Monday in December.

The motion was adopted.

The Senate resumed consideration of the bill creating forest reservations in the Appalachian and White Mountains. Mr. Teller spoke at length in opposition to the bill.

The conferees on the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill made a final report on that measure today and it was adopted by the Senate.

Revision of the tariff in the near future has been promised by the republican leaders. Senator Aldrich, chairman of the finance committee, today introduced a resolution which was promptly adopted authorizing that committee to secure the assistance of experts in procuring information necessary for the intelligent revision of the customs laws and directing it especially to report on what legislation is needed to secure equitable treatment for United States products aboard. Under this broad authority the convention may not recommend changes of rates in the tariff schedules but propose the adoption of maximum and minimum tariffs so as to afford the government means with which to meet tariff attacks by foreign governments on American goods.

HOUSE.

Without a dissenting vote and without a roll call, the House passed today the Alexander government employes' liability bill.

The House sent to conference the sundry civil appropriation bill refusing to agree to the Senate amendments.

The general deficiency appropriation bill reported to the House from the committee on appropriations carries a total of $17,345,572.89.

So offensive were the remarks in the House today of Mr. Gaines to Speaker Cannon, during the debate on the government employee's liability bill, that latter ordered them expunged from the record. Mr. Gaines, the speaker, he said was adding to the disorders in the House by his unnecessary levity.

THE METHODISTS.

A feature of the proceedings of the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church in session in Baltimore yesterday was the situation caused by a statement of the salaries and expenses of the bishops, out of which may grow a movement, and probably a successful one, to cut down the number of bishops to be elected at this session of the conference.

The conference tabled a proposition to strike out the paragraph of the Discipline which requires candidates for the ministry to fast before they are received into full membership.

The report of the committee on revision of ritual, which was unfavorable to the changing of the term "presiding elder" to "district superintendents," raised a protest.

There is a chance that Rev. Dr. M. C. B. Mason, colored, secretary of the Freedmen's Aid Society, will be elected to the episcopacy by the Methodist General Conference.

The committee on state of church debated warmly the proposal to eliminate "dancing, theatre-going and card-playing" from the Discipline. The arguments were not concluded.

Street Car Men Strike.

Cleveland, O., May 15.—Strike was declared at 3 a. m., today by the street railway men's union, and at 4:45 a. m., all the employes of the Municipal Traction Company who had formerly been in the service of the Cleveland Electric Railway Company went on strike. The employes of the Municipal Traction Company who manned the old three cent lines previous to the recent consolidation in most instances refused to strike and took out their cars as usual. These employes were members of a separate local of the union, but their charter was recently revoked. About 1,600 men are on strike.

The conductor of a Payne avenue car, the second to leave the barns, was beaten by a crowd on Hough avenue. A crowd said to be strikers had waited for the car and jerked off the trolley. The conductor was dragged from the car. A third car proceeded to the stalled car and there the crew were forced to abandon it.

Early this morning there was trouble at the Lakeview, Payne avenue and Denison barns. Crowds dragged men who were trying to operate cars off the platforms. All the police reserves were called out and dispersed crowds early at the Lakeview and Superior barns. Only two cars were operated on the Doan street lines and by 7:30 both of these had returned to the barns with every window smashed.

Strikers or sympathizers prevented the starting of cars at Lakeview barns. Police and workmen were hit with stones, the car windows were broken. Shots were fired by a policeman during an encounter with strike sympathizers on a Doan street car. The sympathizers had thrown bricks through the windows of the car. One hit a woman. The policeman fired and captured one man, but the prisoner escaped while the police were trying to call a patrol.

A crowd of fifty men began tearing up the tracks on St. Clair avenue. The police drove them away and they went to 55th street where they laid steel rails across the tracks.

The crew of a west bound car on St. Clair ave. were dragged from the car and beaten. The conductor's scalp was laid open by a brick and his clothing torn off. Policemen rescued the crew.

All over the city thic forenoon there were scores of small riots. The situation is hourly growing more threatening.

Methodists Visit President.

Washington, May 16.—The delegates and visitors to the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, now meeting in Baltimore, moved on the national capital in a body today, to the number of more than a thousand. They came as the guests of the American University, the new national institution of learning now being built by the church in the northwest raoutskirts of the city.

Two special trains brought the visitors to Washington, and they proceeded to the university grounds in trolley cars. An elaborate luncheon was served in a pavilion, constructed especially for the occasion, following which the marine band gave a concert.

The formal exercises of the day, presided over by Bishop Cranston, began at 3 p. m. Addresses were made by President Roosevelt, Vice President Fairbanks, Senator Dolliver and others.

The president in his speech cordially welcomed the members of the conference on behalf of the nation. He referred to the fact that though the Methodist Church is important in many lands, there is none in which it has played so great and peculiar a part as in the United States. "Methodism in America," he said "entered on its period of rapid growth just about the time of Washington's first presidency. Its essential democracy, its fiery and restless energy of spirit, and the wide play that it gave to individual initiative, all tended to make it peculiarly congenial to a hardy and virile folk, democratic to the core, prizing individual independence above all earthly possessions, and engaged in the rough and stern work of conquering a continent."

The president then showed the rapid growth of Methodism and the influence of religion in the development of a nation, and spoke optimistically of the hopes set before the people of the United States in its future expansion and prosperity. Much of the president's address abounded in wholesome advice and practical observations concerning good citizenship.

After the speech-making the president and Mrs. Roosevelt received the delegates and their friends in the college of history, the only building of the university that is now complete.

The day's festivities will close with a banquet tonight, given by the Women's Home Missionary Society, in honor of Bishop and Mrs. Cranston.

A farm hand, who had been employed on the place but a short time and who has disappeared is believed to have committed the crime. No one here knows his name. The victims were all shot. No cause for the crime can be learned.

A posse is searching the township for trace of the murderer. The entire community is aroused by the crime.

Senator Tillman Leaves for Europe.

Boston, May 16.—Accompanied by his wife, Senator Benjamin Tillman sailed on the White Star Liner Canopic today in search of his lost health. Before the steamer left the Charleston dock at 10:30 o'clock the senator talked with the newspapermen apparently in better health and spirits than he has been for several weeks. "I am going to Europe for two things," he said, "to get well and escape the political campaign." He expects to return home in time to vote at the November election.

DOCTORS ENDORSE HERPICIDE

Because Its Formula is Submitted to Them.

Alexander McMillan, M. D., a prominent physician of Lansing, Michigan, writes: "On three cases I have tested Herpicide for dandruff and the result has been all that could be desired."

Herpicide is made upon an entirely new principle, that is, that dandruff and falling hair are caused from a microbe that infests the hair bulb, and by destroying the microbe one's hair is bound to grow luxuriantly. Herpicide is the only hair remedy that claims to, and really does, destroy the dandruff germs. Sold by Ernest L. Allen & Co., agents. Two sizes 50c and $1.00. Double Tragedy at a Circus.

Rome, May 16.—Believing his wife faithless, Antonio Raffaeli, a circus acrobat, hurled the woman to death from a trapeze in the presence of a throng of spectators last night and decapitated Giuseppi Damerini's with an axe as the latter, whom he suspected, knelt by Sendra Raffaeli's corpse. The tragedy occurred at Mestre, in the province of Venice. Damerini, a rich farmer from central Italy, had followed the circus to see Sendra Raffaeli. The acrobat saw him in the audience and his suspicions, he afterward told the police, instantly became a certainity. His wife was on the trapeze at the time and loosing a guy rope, he hit the bar on which she was performing drop. The woman fell, breaking her neck and dying almost instantly. Damerini evidently supposed her fall an accident and went to her aid. Raffaeli rushing into the ring wrested an axe from the hands of one of the circus attendants and killed the farmer at a blow, then chopped off his head while the panic-stricken crowd was stampeding from the tent. The murderer made no attempt at escape, but surrendered to the police immediately.

Negotiations are still progressing.

New York Stock Market.

New York, May 16.—The market showed strength with new high records again made in the leading issues. Other stocks were generally strong. The stocks most prominent in trading were those in which there is understood to be a heavy short interest and it was generally assumed that the chief incentive for the most important advances this morning was covering of shorts.

CONGRESSIONAL.

The Aldrich-Vreeland currency bill is now in conference. The conferees on the part of the Senate are Messrs. Aldrich, Allison, Hale, republicans, and Daniel and Teller, democrats; on the part of the House, Messrs. Vreeland, Burton, of Ohio, and Weeks, republicans, and Glass and Pujo, democrats.

Short work was made of the currency bill in the Senate yesterday. It was referred to the finance committee and promptly reported back amended by inserting the Aldrich bill as a substitute with a few modifications and one addition. This action was approved by the Senate practically without debate by a vote of 47 to 20. Later in the afternoon the bill was sent back in the House, where the action of the Senate was disagreed to by a vote of 150 to 103, six members voting "present," and the conference asked for by the Senate was agreed to.

In the Senate a large number of unobjected bills on the calendar were disposed of.

Mr. Carter gave notice he would call up the postal savings bill today and seek to make it the unfinished business.

The conferees on the Union station in Washington trackage bill reached an agreement, Mr. Sims dissenting.

In the House the military appropriation bill and the public building bills were passed.

An omnibus pension bill providing for 825 private pensions was passed.

The general deficiency, the last of the supply measures, will be reported today, and probably passed before adjournment.

APPEAL IN VAIN.

An earnest, but ineffective, appeal was made in the House of Representatives yesterday by Representatives Richardson, of Alabama, and Jones, of Virginia, for a pension of $50 a month to Ellen Bernard Lee, widow of Gen. Fitzhugh Lee. Both described Mrs. Lee's present financial condition, and briefly recounted the services which her husband had rendered the government, not only as consul general to Cuba but as an officer of the army. Mr. Richardson told the House that Mrs. Lee's sole support was out of the pay of her son, Capt. Fitzhugh Lee, of the army.

Mr. Loudenslager, of New Jersey, was loath to object to the proposal, but said there were thousands of other widows of soldiers having the same claim on the government, who had no one to appeal for them. He was not opposed, he said, to granting an annuity to Mrs. Lee, but he did object to its being given in the way of a pension and establishing a precedent, which, he calculated, would involve an expenditure of over $200,000,000 a year.

[COMMUNICATED.

Among the contemplated reforms of the city democratic committee, let me suggest that they purge the poll books, especially for a democratic primary, and eliminate those fellows who vote a republican presidential ticket and a democratic State and city ticket when a candidate suits their ideas or when they want to defeat another. It certainly is not good democratic politics to vote for a democratic congressman and a republican president. Let the presidential tickets of 1896 and 1900 be the guide. In the last congressional primary I personally know of twenty-five republicans and a few "timid, afraid-of-silver" democrats who voted in one ward, who never vote for a democratic president. H.

FREE KINDERGARTEN.

The thirteenth annual meeting of the directors of the Alexandria Free Kindergarten Association was held last evening at Lee Camp Hall. Mrs. Edward Stabler presided and the parlors were well filled with an appreciative audience.

Miss E. C. McKnight, the secretary, stated that the work done in the kindergarten during the past year was in every way successful, and that great progress had been made by those who attended. The treasurer's report showed that during the year $533.10 had been contributed, of which amount there is on hand a balance of $139.87. Mrs. Edward Stabler, the president, said that during the thirteen years in which the kindergarten had been in existence in Alexandria there had been an average attendance of about forty each year, and that the present prospects of the kindergarten were brighter than ever before, its influence was wide spread, and as the amount of work to be done was constantly increasing, she expressed the hope that in the new school building shortly to be erected there would be a kindergarten department. She spoke in the highest terms of Miss Morrison and Miss Heisley, who have so earnestly and faithfully discharged their duties as teachers in the kindergarten.

After the brief business meeting, Rev. Mr. Sevier make a few remarks in which he spoke of the kindergarten as being the natural transition for the little child from the home to the school. Miss Pratt, who is one of the kindergarten training teachers in Washington, read an able paper on "Froebel Mother's Plays" and Mrs. John Neighligh, who is one of the resident workers at the Neighborhood House in Washington, gave a most interesting talk on the influence of the kindergarten as an aid in the work of social reform.

Mrs. Raymond Hulfish and Miss Graves contributed two vocal solos, which were most enjoyable, as well as the two piano solos by Mrs. Edgar Carpenter. Miss Lelia Steiner was the accompanist.

Mention was made of the kindness of the Elks' Dramatic Club in presenting "Oak Farm," for the benefit of the Free Kindergarten. It was through the suggestion of Mrs. Clarence Keith that this entertainment was given, so we are glad of this opportunity to extend our thanks to her also. The meeting adjourned at 9:30.

THE MOUNT VERNON AVENUE BILL.

The bill proposing to construct an avenue on the south side of the Potomac passed by the Senate yesterday, as stated in the Gazette on that day, was introduced by Senator Daniel. It authorizes the Secretary of the Treasury to pay to the treasurer of the Mount Vernon Avenue Association, a Virginia corporation, to which that State assigned its claims against the government for money advanced during Washington's administration for the construction of government buildings in Washington, the money due the State as principal on the loan, amounting to $120,000. The State assigned its claim to the association for the purpose of its use in the construction of a highway or boulevard from Washington to Mount Vernon. The bill also provides for the payment of $72,000 to the State of Maryland, that sum having been advanced to the federal government by the Old Line State for the same purpose as was served by the donation from Virginia.

The Mount Vernon Chapter, D. A. R., held its May meeting yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Kate Waller Barrett on Duke street, Mrs. Wm. J. Morton presiding. Boy Nearly Trampled to Death.

"The black mare hasn't been out for a week, but if you promise me five cents I'll hitch her up," such was the wager made between a father and his son, the boy a mere lad. But with a determination to win at all hazards he went to the stable to hitch up the black mare, not realizing that she was one of the most vicious horses in the neighborhood. All within the house were making merry and giving little or no thought to the ordeal through which the youngster was passing. Suddenly a terrific crash is heard coming from the direction of the stable; next comes an agonizing cry. In a few minutes, all tattered and torn, the boy staggers in, and with all his folks gathered around him will be seen in "Oak Farm," Opera House, May 19. Tickets 25c, 35c and 50c. Reserved by E. Have You a Summer Stove?

The stifling air of a close kitchen is changed to comfortable coolness by installing a New Perfection Wick Blue Flame Oil Cook-Stove to do the family cooking.

No kitchen furnishing is so convenient as this stove. Gives a working heat at once, and maintains it until turned out—that too, without overheating the room. If you examine the

NEW PERFECTION

you will see why this is so. The heat from the chimney of the "New Perfection" is concentrated under the kettle and not dissipated through the room by radiation. Thus it does the work of the coal range without its discomfort. Ask your dealer about this stove—if not with him, write our nearest agency.

The Rayo Lamp is a very handsome piece of housefurnishing and gives a clear, powerful light more agreeable than gas or electricity. Safe everywhere and always. Made of brass finely nickel plated—just the thing for the living-room. If not with your dealer, write our nearest agency.

Riding an Ostrich.

"I don't believe the stories told about the natives in Africa and Australia riding ostriches," said a Californian who gives riding lessons in a New York riding academy, "and I saw this pretty well tried on one occasion in my state. A cowboy who had vanquished every pony he ever undertook to break in was induced to try an ostrich. After an hour's hard work he succeeded in mounting the bird, which at first tried to shake and roll him off, but these tactics of course had no effect upon the cowboy. Then in spite of all the man could do the ostrich succeeded in getting its head around and seizing the rider by the calf of one leg. Finally the man, after much frantic kicking, got his leg free. He then doubled his feet under him, and the ostrich reached over his wings and got a good, fast hold on the man's back, throwing him heavily to the ground and trampling on him. It took three of us to chase the infuriated ostrich away, and we accomplished it barely in time to save the man's life. That's why I don't believe the native Australians can ride ostriches."—New York Press.

Mars as Prophet.

Study of Mars proves that planet to occupy earthwise in some sort the post of prophet, for in addition to the side lights it throws upon our past it is by way of foretelling our future. It enables us to no mean extent to foresee what eventually will overtake the earth in process of time, inasmuch as from a scrutiny of Mars coming events cast not their shadows, but their light, before.

It is the planet's size that fits it thus for the role of seer. Its smaller bulk has caused it to age quicker than our earth, and in consequence it has long since passed through that stage of its planetary career which the earth at present is experiencing and has advanced to a further one, to which in time the earth itself must come if it be not overwhelmed beforehand by other catastrophe. In detail of course no two planets of different initial mass repeat each other's evolutionary history, but in a general way they severally follow something of the same road.—Percival Lowell in Century.

Why the Tables Are Green.

"Billiards is one of the oldest games I know of," said a sporting man. "It is older even than croquet, which was played by French kings a great many hundred years ago. But, while billiards is so old, I'll bet none of the devotees of the ivories and the cue can tell me why a billiard table covering is green. The billiard table is always green. Well, the answer is simple enough. Billiards is merely a corruption of the good old English game of bowls, which was played on a beautifully green lawn. On rainy and winter days, however, your English sportsman couldn't enjoy his bowls, so some clever Johnny conceived the scheme of playing bowls indoors on his imitation green lawn. It was too much of a cinch, however, playing this game with the hand in such close quarters, so the cue was introduced to put skill at a premium. That's why billiard tables are green."—Philadelphia Record.

Diving For Fish.

A unique method of fishing is employed by natives along the Panlaung river. Two dugout boats are employed about thirty feet long, with two men with long poles, one in the bow, the other at the stern punting the boat along. They stretch a long rope made of bamboos and plaited grass about a hundred yards long and weighted about every ten yards with big stones. This they let down into the water, and the fish are frightened toward the bank. The divers then jump in three at a time, remaining down about twenty seconds. They carry gaffs about eighteen inches long and fishhooks with cords attached. When they strike a fish they let go the gaff, and the fish is hauled up in the boat. A big fire is lighted on the river bank, and the men warm themselves before it when not diving.—Rangoon Gazette.

A Well In a Churchyard.

Hadstock, in Essex, possesses what is probably a unique water supply. It is entirely derived from a deep well in the parish churchyard. The well is over 800 years old and is known as St. Botolph's well. The inhabitants of Hadstock declare that it contains the best drinking water in Great Britain, and, as the village in question is one of the healthiest places in Essex, there is undoubtedly some truth in their boast.—London Strand Magazine.

Feb. 29 Births.

Very few distinguished men have been born on Feb. 29 of leap year. Among them are Edward Cave of the Gentleman's Magazine, who was born in 1692, and Rossini on the same day a hundred years later. Archbishop Whitgift in 1604 and John, the brother of Sir Edwin Landseer, himself an artist, both died on this day.

Mrs. Malinda Akers, of Basham, Va., writes: "I had what doctors call 'prolapse,' and couldn't stand straight. I had pain in my back and shoulders, and was very irregular and profuse. Doctors said an operation was needed, but I couldn't bear the thought of the knife. After taking three bottles of Wine of Cardui, I could walk around. Can now do my housework and am in splendid health."

The following is a copy of the original poem composed by Mrs. Anne Chew Dorsey Coquillett, of Washington city, and presented to the M. D. Corse Camp, Sons of Confederate Veterans, at their last meeting. It can be sung to the tune of "I'm going back to Dixie."

THE LAND O' THE LEAL.

The land of flowers,
The land of love,
The land of beauty and of song,
The land of mirth,
The land of worth,
I could sing of thee all day long,

To memory how dear,
To eye how fair,
Her women—the fairest on earth,
Her boys how brave,
No honor they crave
Save to live for the land of their birth.

In the past or the present,
Afar or near,
No history reads so well,
The fame they've earned
Is clearly discerned,
The history of the country will tell.

Her Washington and Lee
You plainly can see,
Outrank all others on earth.
Her privates as well,
The history will tell,
No measure can hold their worth.

May her future be bright,
May she always be as right,
As she was in sixty-one;
May her sons be as brave
And her honor proudly save,
As the heroes of the past have done.

Then hail to the South,
The dear old South,
Forever and aye she will be
The dearest to our hearts,
The fairest to our eyes,
The land of the brave and the free.

—FIDELIS.

LIE PASSED.

The lie was passed between Bishop William Burt, of Zurich, Switzerland, and Bishop I. B. Scott, colored, of Liberia, in attendance upon the Methodist General Conference in session in Baltimore yesterday, and as a result charges may be preferred before the conference. The exciting colloquy grew out of an incident in Africa a year ago. Bishop Burt was sent to Africa to assist Bishop Scott, who is a missionary bishop in presiding over annual conferences in Liberia, and to supervise the latter's work generally while there.

It is said that Bishop Scott, after he arrived in Baltimore, stated that Bishop Burt told him while in Africa that he should be subject to orders of Bishop Hartzell. This came to the ears of Bishop Burt and he took Bishop Scott to task for the statement. Bishop Burt claims he told Bishop Scott to co-operate with Bishop Hartzell, and not that he should be subject to the latter's orders.

Yesterday afternoon, when the bishops met, delegates near them heard Bishop Burt say to Bishop Scott:

"You lied."

"I did not," replied the colored bishop.

"You lied about me; you know you did."

"I tell you I did not lie about you," reiterated Bishop Scott.

"You did lie about me," repeated Bishop Burt, "and if you do not correct it I am going to report you to this conference and have the matter straightened out."

The bishops then separated.
